150TH ANNIVERSARY COMMEMORATIVE EVENTS GUIDE

JUNE 29 - JULY 7, 2013

GETTYSBURG NATIONAL MILITARY PARK
MUSEUM & VISITOR CENTER AND OTHER LOCATIONS ON THE BATTLEFIELD

welcome

It took just four days in 1863 to etch Gettysburg into our national lexicon forever. From July 1 to 3, a Union victory in the largest battle ever fought in North America helped turn the tide of the American Civil War. One November morning four months later, President Abraham Lincoln dedicated the Soldiers' National Cemetery with his immortal Address. In just about two minutes time, our 16th President ushered in a new birth of freedom, proclaiming Gettysburg as a touchstone of our national history.

This year, the Gettysburg Foundation and Gettysburg National Military Park are commemorating the 150th anniversary of this epic battle and unforgettable speech with historic events that will touch millions of individuals throughout the country and the world. This Commemorative Events Guide will lead you through the various events and programs that are guaranteed to educate and inspire. From ranger programs and battle walks to book signings and receptions, there is something for all ages and levels of interest.

In addition to the commemorative events, it is the Foundation's goal to use this 150th commemoration as a time to re-dedicate Gettysburg to future generations by raising critical funds and awareness. The Gettysburg Foundation, in partnership with Gettysburg National Military Park, is helping to build a future where the stories and sacrifices of Gettysburg are not only known, but cherished and passed on for the next 150 years and beyond.

“GETTYSBURG BELONGS TO ALL OF US, AND ITS CAPACITY TO CAPTIVATE OUR COLLECTIVE IMAGINATION AND DEFINE AND INSPIRE OUR NATIONAL CHARACTER ENDURES.”

BOB KIRBY

We invite people from all walks of life to join us to support initiatives that will positively impact the landscape and the visitor experience at Gettysburg now and well into the future, thereby continuing the traditional legacy of good stewardship at Gettysburg. To accomplish this goal, the Foundation is embarking on a five-year effort to build support in three critical areas: preservation, acquisition and education. Without the preservation and acquisition of historic land and artifacts, like the George

JOANNE M. HANLEY

Spangler Farm and the priceless possessions of soldiers and civilians, the story of Gettysburg will be lost and the lessons soon forgotten. Through educational programming and outreach, we can teach the timeless meaning of individual sacrifice and teamwork, first shown here in 1863. These three critical areas will sustain not only the battlefield but also the message of selflessness, ideals and reconciliation that can be found on the fields of Gettysburg.

Gettysburg belongs to all of us, and its capacity to captivate our collective imagination and define and inspire our national character endures. Those who return to Gettysburg often tell us they learn something different each visit—and we wouldn't have it any other way. Whether it's your first visit or your fifth, whether you are a new or veteran student of Gettysburg and the Civil War, the Gettysburg Foundation and Gettysburg National Military Park remain committed to providing novel opportunities to learn, ever-expanding museum collections to examine and newly preserved sacred ground to explore.

Thank you for joining us for this milestone in our nation's history. We hope you participate in the special experiences we have planned for you throughout this nine-day guide and continue to support Gettysburg and its legacy for years to come.

A RARE GLIMPSE INTO THE LIVES OF LEGENDS

During the American Civil War, the fate of the nation balanced on a few political, military and cultural leaders who had one thing in common: they achieved national fame by helping to chart a course through the nation's greatest crisis. As part of the Commemoration of the 150th Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg, the Gettysburg National Military Park Museum and Visitor Center presents the new exhibit Treasures of the Civil War: Legendary Leaders Who Shaped a War and a Nation.

Most of the nearly 100 artifacts, from outstanding Civil War collections throughout the United States, are being exhibited at Gettysburg for the first time, offering a rare glimpse into the personal and professional lives of these 13 legends.

"This barn was full of wounded from one end to the other..."

GENERAL CARL SCHURZ

The complete preservation of the Spangler Farm will provide the opportunity for historic interpretation and ensure the 1,900 men who were treated on the property did not suffer in vain. While the Gettysburg Foundation, the non-profit partner of Gettysburg National Military Park, has begun making great strides in the rehabilitation of the Spangler Farm property and structures to its 1863 appearance, there is still much work to be done. Through the help of generous donors and supporters, like you, the Spangler Farm can eventually be rehabilitated and teach the untold stories of the farm. If you'd like to help protect the stories and legacy of the George Spangler Farm, please visit our website, www.gettysburgfoundation.org or contact the Foundation's development office at (717) 339-2150.

DID YOU KNOW THAT THE GETTYSBURG FOUNDATION HAS ANOTHER INTERACTIVE MUSEUM LOCATED RIGHT IN DOWNTOWN GETTYSBURG?

The Rupp House History Center, established in 2002, is located at 451 Baltimore Street and is the in-town presence for the Gettysburg Foundation and a gathering place for Friends of Gettysburg members. He spent the next two frightful nights in his cellar, hiding from the bullets that were passing through his home. (In fact, when you visit the Rupp House History Center today, you can see John Rupp hiding out in his cellar!) Open to the public free of charge, the house features interactive exhibits and events throughout the season and also is the go-to place to purchase the latest Friends of Gettysburg merchandise!

Whether your interest is portraying a soldier or civilian in period attire, greeting guests at the Rupp House as part of visitor services, painting fences on Volunteer Workday, promoting membership or working behind the scenes in data entry, Friends volunteers are an invaluable resource in preserving Gettysburg for future generations. No prior experience is necessary, just a desire to share your love of Gettysburg with others.

Home Guard volunteers have provided over 4,000 service hours annually to the Gettysburg Foundation. Volunteers are needed year-round and serve in a variety of capacities including:

- LIVING HISTORY GREETERS AND DEMONSTRATIONS
- MEMBER AND VISITOR SERVICES
- MERCHANDISE FULFILLMENT
- LANDSCAPING/GARDENING
- DOCENTS
- EVENT AMBASSADORS

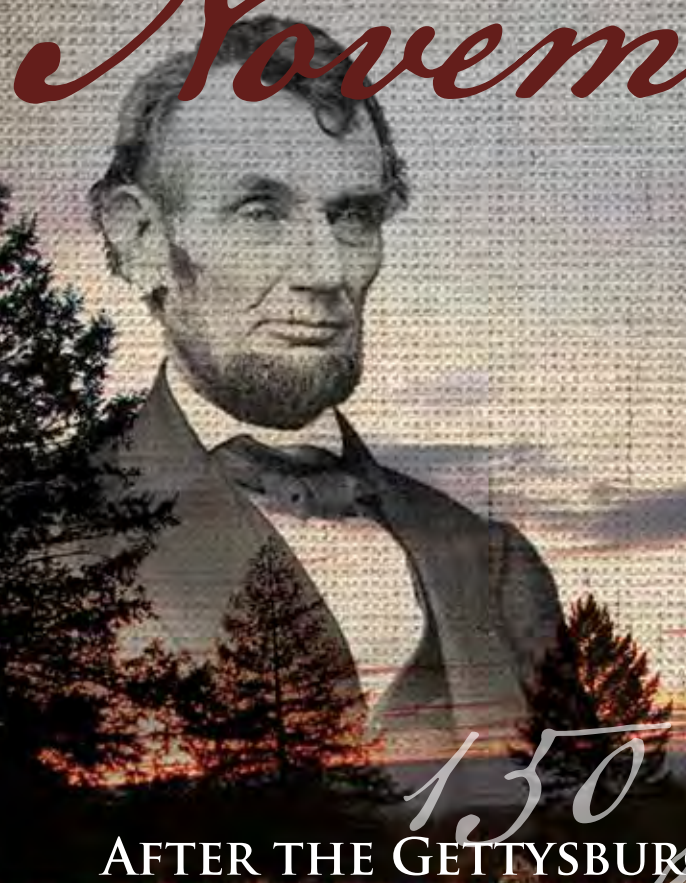

In addition to ongoing visitor activities, the Gettysburg Foundation also sponsors Volunteer Workday, an entire day devoted to service on the battlefield. Held the first Saturday in June, members and guests from across the country work alongside the National Park Service employees on a variety of battlefield projects. Some recent projects include, painting historic structures, rebuilding fence lines, and cleaning headstones in the Soldiers' National Cemetery.
